With a name like Ace, it was only a matter of time before 13-year-old Ace Buck took out a sporting competition.

The Alphington resident is the newly crowned under-14s 800-metre Australian champion.

The youngster took home gold at the recent Australian Junior Athletics Championships, in Sydney, adding to his three gold won at the Victorian State Track and Field Championships.

Ace also took home silver from Sydney in the 1500 metres and 400 metres.

A member of Collingwood Harriers Athletics Club and Collingwood Little Athletics Club, Ace has also been selected for the Australian Little Athletics Championships (ALAC) Victorian team, after winning the under 13s 800 metres and 1500 metres at the recent State Little Athletics Championships.

He will compete in the ALAC at Albert Park Lakeside Stadium on May 3.
